Dear Friends and Partners,

Greetings to you from Nepal!

I hope and pray that you are well in the grace of our Lord.

"Blessed are those who have regard for the weak; the Lord delivers them in times of trouble."Psalm41:1 NIV.

Thank you once again for standing with us during this challenging time. Your partnership has been a blessing to so many families and children specially of flooded areas. Together, we trust our Lord to continue bringing hope, healing, and restoration to those whose lives have been deeply affected by the Flash Flood.

We are delighted to share our third update on our relief initiative for the Bhote Koshi flood victims. Together, we have been able to reach 350 families and 1,375 students with essential relief materials. Thank you so much for partnering with us prayerfully and faithfully.

Although the news and the world's attention have now shifted elsewhere, the devastating impact of the floods will take a long time to overcome. Rebuilding lives and rehabilitating displaced communities will require continued support and commitment.

We praise God for the support Nepal government has received from around the world to help the flood victims. We are also deeply grateful for partners like you and the many organisations working together to bring healing and hope to the broken and displaced communities of Rasuwa and Nuwakot.

Aanandit Relief Journey So Far

We began by providing food for 19 families, followed by blankets for 300 families living in a temporary holding centre. Most recently, we distributed stationery materials, books, and educational games to 1,375 students in three schools.

Our initial plan was to support 1,500 students. However, many children have still not returned to school for various reasons, and sadly, some remain missing.

The wounds of these communities run deep, and the needs are immense. Yet, we trust that through the grace of our Lord, healing and hope will gradually be restored. Let us continue to remember these communities in our prayers and help wherever we can.

Looking Ahead: Restoration and Empowerment

Our next step is to help children return to education by providing educational restoration support to those who need it most. We are also ready to welcome children who have been left behind, lost their families, or lost everything in the floods.

Looking towards long-term recovery, we plan to support vulnerable families in establishing small businesses and equip individuals with practical skills to find employment or create their own livelihoods.

Working closely with local schools, authorities, and pastors, we aim to identify those most in need and support them through our existing programmes:

- Micro Business Support: Helping families establish sustainable sources of income.
- Scholarship Programme: Supporting children to continue their education.
- Youth Empowerment: Equipping young people with practical and vocational skills.
- Psychosocial Support: Providing care, encouragement, and emotional support to those affected by the disaster.

Our prayer is that these efforts will not only help families recover from the disaster but also empower them to rebuild their lives with dignity, hope, and a sustainable future.

Proposed Plan for the Next Phase of ACC Response

S.N	Activities	Projects	Remarks
1.	Provide shelter and care for orphaned children from flood-affected areas.	Children's Home	We are working in collaboration with the Nepal Child Rights Council to provide care and protection for children who have lost their parents in the floods.
2.	Provide care and support for young women in our hostel.	Aanandit Hostel	This will provide young women with a safe and secure environment and opportunities to pursue higher education.

3.	Provide care and support for elderly mothers.	Aanandit Elderly Care	Elderly mothers who have lost their families in the floods will be welcomed and provided with care, shelter, and support.
4.	Provide seed money to help individuals and families establish small businesses and generate income.	Micro Business and Youth empowerment Project	Many people have lost their livelihoods due to the August floods. Our support will help them start small businesses using available resources and rebuild their livelihoods.
5.	Provide educational support to students affected by the floods.	Aanandit Scholarship Project	This support will enable students to continue or resume their education without fear of financial hardship.
6.	Provide counselling, emotional support, and healing activities.	Health and Community support	We plan to partner with local churches and schools to provide counselling and community support according to the needs of affected individuals and families.

Thank you once again for standing with us during this challenging time. Your partnership has been a blessing to so many families and children. Together, we trust our Lord to continue bringing hope, healing, and restoration to those whose lives have been deeply affected.

May the Lord bless you abundantly,

Shusma Adhikari
